"Miss Cherry Blossom" Proves High School's Best Effort

Many Persons Turned Away From Delightful Musical Comedy, Presented To a Packed House; Miss Madylin Culp, Jarvis Robinson and Edgar Markley Star.

Surpassing in every way all previous efforts of Gettysburg High School players, "Miss Cherry Blossom," a musical comedy, was presented to an audience which taxed the capacity of the Lincoln Way Theater, Thursday evening.

Every seat in the theater was occupied and a number of persons stood throughout the production. It is estimated that fully a hundred persons were turned away at the doors because they were unable to obtain seats, and many persons anxious to purchase seats after the tickets were placed on sale were unable to do so and did not come to the theater to buy tickets at the last minute.

"Miss Cherry Blossom" was as refreshing as spring would be in the middle of January, having catchy songs, well-trained ensembles and mirth-provoking lines, while a delightful plot ran throughout, unusual in most musical comedy shows. All the actors performed their parts capably, but special mention is needed for some members of the cast.

Miss Madylin Culp, as "Miss Cherry Blossom," an American girl reared as a Japanese, gave an interpretation of her part that belied the fact that she was only an amateur. She captivated the audience with her clear soprano voice and the manner in which she acted the part of a shy Japanese maiden.

She was capably supported by Jarvis Robinson, as John Henry Smith, a New Yorker on a visit to Japan, in the leading male role. The duets featuring Miss Culp and Mr. Robinson were particularly pleasing, and never failed to bring encores.

The comedy part fell upon Edgar Markley, as Kokemo, proprietor of a tea garden in Tokyo, and the manner in which he played his part would have done credit to a veteran actor. His lines were especially humorous and he "put them over" in such a way that they never failed to bring hearty laughter from the audience.

Clifton Wierman, as "Togo," a Japanese politician of high rank, and suitor for the hand of "Miss Cherry Blossom," also carried off honors, both for his acting and for his vocal renditions. His part called for a person with a bass voice, which he supplied capably.

Another love affair in the plot, interwoven with that of "Miss Cherry Blossom" and John Henry Smith, was that between John Mickle, as Henry Foster Jones, and Miss Mary Jane Snyder, as Jessica Vanderpool. Both these characters showed the results of careful training and their voices blended nicely for duet purposes.

The Plot

The story of the play is woven around Evelyn Barnes, an American girl, orphaned by the death of her parents in Japan, who is brought up as a Japanese maiden. After the death of her parents, her parents' secretary uses their estate for his own ends. When Evelyn, who has come to be known as "Miss Cherry Blossom," is eighteen, Worthington, the secretary, played by Charles Weaver, returns to Japan on his yacht, bringing a party of American friends, including John Henry Smith. The latter falls madly in love with "Miss Cherry Blossom" and wishes to marry her, but Kokemo, who has reared her, wants her to marry Togo, a rich Japanese politician. Smith outwits Togo and Kokemo; Cherry learns of her identity; comes into her own property; marries Jack and all ends happily.

The production was directed by Miss Lucille Henry, supervisor of music in the public schools, with the assistance of Miss Helen L. Cope, who acted as dramatic instructor for the cast. The proceeds of the play will be turned into the treasury of the High School music department.

Cast and Chorus

In the cast were Miss Madylin Culp, Edgar Markley, Jarvis Robinson, John Mickle, Charles Weaver, Miss Mary Jane Snyder, Clifton Wierman and Byron Kadel, secretary to Worthington. Special costumes and scenery were procured for the show and added much to the presentation. Two choruses assisted with the show. They were "American Men and Girls" and the "Geisha Girls." In the former were Howard Robinson, Harmon Zinn, Robert Bream, Glenn Stauffer, Paul Reaser, Charles Rogers, Clement Woutersz, Geraldine Cashman, Catherine Hartman, Evelyn Thomas, Kathryn Hershey, Gladys Daniels, Agatha Hagen and Edith Clare.

In the latter, were Kathryn Sheads, Mildred Myers, Elizabeth Bigham, Beatrice Minter, Mae Reinecker, Anna Geiselman, Josephine Rebert, Edith Minter, Dorothy Remmel, Cordelia Hartman, Elizabeth Plank, Dorothy Taughnbaugh, Esther Reaser, Ruth Reaser, Alice Snyder, Kathleen Thomas, Marguerite Rogers, Elizabeth Horn, Kathryn Weikert and Mildred Cashman.

W. H. DEGROFT IS FOUND LIFELESS

Battlefield Guide Stricken by Heart Attack in Early Morning Hours.

William H. DeGroot, battlefield guide, was found dead in bed in lodgings of Philip Hoffman in Race Horse Alley at 7:45 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore street, county coroner, was called in and said heart trouble had been the cause of death.

Mr. DeGroot, who was about 65 years old, had been living in lodgings of William Shields, Jr., on the lot in the rear of the Hotel Gettysburg, but on Thursday night had gone to bed in the lodgings of Mr. Hoffman, who was taken to the Warner Hospital last week.

So far as can be learned, Charles Tate, who lives on Carlisle street, directly opposite the lodgings of Hoffman and Shields, was the last man to see DeGroot alive. According to Mr. Tate he was up at 4 o'clock this morning and looking out of a window saw DeGroot walking up and down in front of his lodgings hatless.

William Spalding, who lives at the Hotel Gettysburg, went to the Hoffman lodgings this morning at 7:45 and found DeGroot lying on the bed, apparently lifeless. He called in others and upon examination it was found that life was extinct.

Mr. DeGroot is survived by one son, Harry DeGroot, Wallace street, York, and one sister, Mrs. Edward Dull, South Washington street. His mother, Mrs. Matilda Smith, of Gettysburg, also survives.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PUBLISHER HERE ON BRIEF VISIT

Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Accompanied by Former Lieutenant Governor, in Town.

RALPH BEAVER STRASSBURGER

Ralph Beaver Strassburger, editor and publisher of the Norristown Herald, was a Gettysburg visitor today. He was accompanied by Former Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClain and together they called upon Republican party leaders in the interests of Mr. Strassburger's candidacy for election in the Republican primary April 22 as a delegate-at-large to the Republican National convention.

They left late this afternoon for York, having come here this morning from Chambersburg.

Mr. Strassburger is making his campaign independently of the organization headed by Governor Pinchot, which has a slate of seven delegates to the convention, which the governor himself heads. Mr. Strassburger hopes to "nose out" one of the slated candidates and his prospects at this time are excellent, both he and Mr. McClain asserted.

Both were visitors at The Gettysburg Times office at noon today and complimented the management upon the modern and unusually pleasant working arrangement of The Times newspaper and job printing plant and offices.

COAL PRICES ARE ON THE TOBOGGAN

Annual Spring Reduction of Kitchen Sizes Stimulates Buying.

The annual reduction of retail coal prices in Gettysburg is from 75 cents to $1.50 lower than the prices of last year, according to local dealers. The spring reduction is made annually to induce summer buying and to help stabilize the coal market after the ups and downs of the winter.

Egg sizes now listed at from $13.75 to $14.50 a ton are 50 cents lower than last year's prices. Stove and nut sizes, which sold at $14.75 to $16, are now listed at from $14 to $14.50. Broken coal also went down 75 cents, from $13.75 to $13. Poca coal which sold as high as $13.50 and $14 a ton has dropped to $12 a ton.

Dealers, however, cannot say how long these existing prices will prevail, in view of the fact that the market and the cost at the mines is constantly changing.

Prevailing coal prices in Philadelphia are as follows: Nut and stove coal, $14.75 a ton; egg, $14.50, and pea, $10.75. In most instances, the prices in the Philadelphia markets are higher than locally.

Although reductions are in order in Gettysburg today, dealers do not expect the coal offered at these prices to be on hand for at least a month, some high priced winter coal still being in local yards.

Navigation to the west is open at this time of the year, and orders from that section must be filled before the lakes freeze again, local dealers state, adding that the mine operators claim that Pennsylvania's demand for coal can be supplied at any time during the year.

Should the need of coal in this section arise, dealers are urging their customers to buy nut coal, which can be had for less than two-thirds the price of prepared domestic sizes of anthracite.

Coal prices, the dealers declare, are governed by supply and demand at the mines. Should one dealer here sell a certain grade of coal at a lower price than his competitor it is because that dealer has secured a temporarily better price. The dealer whose price on another kind of coal is higher may have a lower price than his competitor on another kind, with which his competitor cannot compete.

WOMEN VOTERS TO FORM BRANCH HERE

Adams County League of Women Voters Is Planned at Luncheon.

Forty-four women, representing all political faiths and from every section of Adams county, held a luncheon at the Blue Parrot Tea Room, Chambersburg street, Thursday afternoon, and decided to join the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, by organizing a branch of that League in this county.

Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, of Haverford, regional director of the League, spoke of "Congress and the World Court," while Miss Mary E. Sleichter, of Harrisburg, State organizer for the League, outlined the objects and purposes of the organization. The League is non-partisan and does not take sides with any political party.

Mrs. Herbert C. Alleman, Mrs. C. F. Sanders, of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Robert Eldon, of Aspers, were appointed a committee to nominate officers for the Adams county branch of the League, making their nominations at another meeting of women voters to be held after Easter. The date of this meeting has not yet been decided.

The committee in charge of Thursday afternoon's luncheon was composed of Mrs. John McIlhenny, Gettysburg; Mrs. Richard Walton, Biglerville; Miss Annie Sheely, Arendtsville, and Mrs. Robert Eldon, Aspers.

CHARLES SANTEE HALTS JAIL BREAK

Former Sergeant of State Police Here Frustrates Plot at Eastern Penitentiary.

Charles Santee, well remembered in Gettysburg as sergeant in charge of the State Police sub-station here about two years ago, and who is now deputy warden at the Eastern Penitentiary, figured as a hero late Thursday night when he frustrated the attempt of two convicts at the penitentiary to tunnel out of the institution.

According to news dispatches received here this morning, the discovery of the attempted jail delivery was made late Thursday night by the former sergeant just shortly after the conclusion of a musical program by the convicts which was broadcast by a Philadelphia radio station.

A tunnel had been dug by the convicts, extending to within nine feet of the Fairmount avenue wall of the institution, and a fair break for liberty seemed near for the men, Harry Watson, of Hartford, Connecticut, and Louis Olstein, of Philadelphia.

Prison officials said they are in possession of definite information that the two convicts had made arrangements with friends on the outside to meet them on Fairmount avenue with civilian clothing and an automobile in which to make their escape.

Wilson, Gettysburg, Western Maryland railroad detective, Thursday morning brought suit before Alderman Jacob Stager, at York, against John Bricker, 532 Laucks street, that city, charging him with the larceny of coal from a car on the Western Maryland siding at the Feldmann coal yards, York. It is claimed that wholesale thefts of coal have taken place at the Feldmann yards and Detective Wilson was assigned the duty of clearing up the matter. It is alleged that on the night of April 5, last, Bricker stole 500 pounds of coal. What means he used to get the fuel to his home are not known. Other arrests will follow.

Heretofore the international understanding between Washington and Tokyo on the subject has been based on a long succession of exchanges and precedents and the exact terms of the agreement never have been reduced to precise form.

ASKS WOMEN TO SUPPORT LAWS

Commissioner Haynes Pleads For Second Prohibition Crusade Among Fair Sex.

Washington, April 11.—The women of America were called upon "to enter upon a second crusade" for prohibition by Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, at the opening session Thursday of the convention of the woman's national committee for law enforcement.

Addresses by government officials and others, a message urging respect for all laws from Secretary Hughes and a reception to the delegates at the White House marked the convention's program for Thursday, with Mrs. Herbert Hoover presiding and Mrs. Robert Lansing acting as secretary.

The meeting is sponsored by Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., who was the widow of Grover Cleveland, and Mrs. Taft, and the list of speakers included, besides Commissioner Haynes, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general; Senator Walker F. George, of Georgia, Secretary Wilbur, Kathleen Norris, novelist, and representatives of several women's organizations.

"All citizens," said Secretary Hughes in his message, "respect the laws they like. The test of devotion to our institutions is respect for law itself. Respect for law is quite apart from approval of particular laws. It is respect for organized society and, in a republic, for the rule of the people through representative government."

Mr. Haynes told the delegates the "call to a second great crusade" is "not so much in the interest of prohibition, but in the interest of enforcement and, particularly, the observance of law and the constitution of the United States."

EXPECT TO PASS BONUS SATURDAY

Senate Democrats Ask Time to Give House Bill More Study.

Washington, April 11.—Consideration of the soldier bonus bill was put over Thursday by the senate finance committee to Saturday morning, when Chairman Smoot predicted agreement would be reached on a bill similar to that passed by the house.

Democrats of the committee asked time Thursday to give further study to the bill which the Republicans have approved. "It is expected Democrats will propose a full cash payments option in the measure which now carries provisions for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation and twenty-year endowment life insurance policies to others."

Chairman Smoot made public Thursday revised estimates as to the cost of the bill passed by the house on the basis of new figures submitted by the army, navy and marine corps, of the number entitled to benefits.

H. P. Brown, veterans' bureau actuary, estimated the insurance policies would cost the government $2,202,467,420 spread over a period of twenty years, the life of the policies, and Joseph McCoy, government actuary, estimated the cost at $3,631,047,691.

AUTO THIEVES ARE HELD FOR GRAND JURY ACTION

Youths, Who Captured Car in New Oxford, Unable to Furnish Bail.

William Mills, 18, and Stanley Reaver, 21, Philadelphia, captured by state police near Chambersburg after stealing the Scripps-Booth car of Dr. G. A. Kauffman, Hanover, in York on last Thursday night, were unable to furnish $1,000 bail each after a hearing before Squire Sell Thursday morning and were remanded to jail for appearance before the April grand jury. Prior to the hearing they had been held in jail and were returned by Chief Crabbs Thursday morning after the hearing.

Witnesses against the men were G. M. McCarthy and M. O. Harnois, both state policemen who made the arrests, Dr. Kauffman, Chief Crabbs and W. D. Souder, York. The night of the theft when Dr. Kauffman left a theatre in York at 11 o'clock, where the car had been parked, he was told by Souder of the getaway of the thieves. When the state officers found the men near Chambersburg next day they procured all necessary papers, these having been left in the machine by Kauffman. One unsigned card, however, lead to the undoing of the thieves, for when asked to sign they wrote "Hoffman" instead of Kauffman. They later confessed.

SAX AND JAZZ STORMS UPSET SAXONY NATION

(By Associated Press.) Washington, April 11.—There is only one saxophone in Saxony and it is attracting so much attention that special police are kept in front of the shop which exhibits it to keep the crowds in order, the Department of Commerce has been informed by its representative at Leipzig, in a report suggesting a new market for these instruments.

Jazz music had taken Saxony's cabarets by storm, the consul says, and he adds that enough saxophones should be sent there to enable Saxony's musicians to learn their secrets.

HUGO STINNES DIES IN BERLIN

"Man Who Owned Everything" Victim of Pneumonia After Operation.

RICHEST MAN IN EUROPE

Complications Follow Operations on Industrial Magnate; Was Thought to be on Road to Recovery.

Berlin, April 11.—Hugo Stinnes, leading figure in German industrial life, died here Thursday.

Herr Stinnes had been ill in his private apartments two weeks before being removed to the sanitarium where he was operated upon for gall stones four weeks ago. The progress of his recovery was such that his physicians believed he would be able to leave last week for a southern climate, but fresh complications set in necessitating second and third operations, the last of which was performed Sunday.

Despite the gravity of his condition, the industrial leader persisted in keeping up active conversations with the members of his family, all of whom were at his bedside, and the various secretaries who called upon him to report on urgent business matters. On Tuesday he repeatedly inquired for details regarding the Dawes report.

There was a slight betterment in his condition late Wednesday, but shortly after noon Thursday he was seized by fever spasms caused by inflammation of the lungs. Herr Stinnes was 54 years old.

Hugo Stinnes was spoken of in continental Europe as the German who owned everything in sight and, from the peculiar pleasure he found in confiding the size of his fortune to all who would listen, the details of his vast industrial enterprises, and the extent of his mining, shipping and newspaper holding were never left very much in doubt.

His Interest Varied

In addition to owning outright a score or more of the largest hotels in Berlin, Hamburg and Bremen, Stinnes shared control of the iron and coal industry of Germany, with his friend, August Thyssen, and a few others, and occupied a dominating position in the entire inland navigation of that country. He also directed several big ocean shipping concerns, owned most of the potash deposits of central Europe, and in 1920 was reported to have purchased fifty newspapers, as well as several paper mills and pulp factories.

Before the war Frau Bertha Krupp was said to possess the largest personal fortune in Germany. She paid taxes on property worth nearly 300,000,000 gold marks. At that time Stinnes' fortune was estimated at 30,000,000 marks, which, according to competent calculation, increased during the war and the revolution to more than 1,000,000,000 marks.

Although Stinnes proved himself to be perhaps the greatest industrial organizer Germany ever produced, he was never graduated, so to speak, from the working class. He had the appearance and bearing of a worker, and could go about in the clothes of a foreman or a miner without attracting attention. He was once described as like a piece of coal wandering about among his own coal mines.

He Liked Toys

Novelties and toys were passion with Stinnes. He would be captivated in the street by the sight of a peddler's pack, and if he discovered a new kind of fountain pen or safety razor among the man's wares his excitement was almost boundless.

Stinnes, like most men of action, was a person of few words except when asked to discuss his financial affairs, and then he was verbose to a degree that tried the patience of his auditors. His egotism was no less pronounced than his juvenility and his love of toys.

AMERICANS MAY RULE IN GERMANY

U. S. Aid Sought in Reparations, Administered by American.

SEEK WALL STREET LOAN

Experts Would Create World Dictator in Exchange Dealings, Buying Foreign Trade Balances For Payments.

Paris, April 11.—America's unofficial participation in the plan of reparations settlement as presented by the Dawes' expert committee may be summed up as follows:

First—American investors would be asked to loan the equivalent of $100,000,000, or about half the proposed 800,000,000 gold marks loan, to Germany for the organization of the new gold bank of issue and to tide Germany over the preliminary period of economic reconstruction.

Second—A world's exchange dictator, who probably would be an American, would control transfers of reparations payments by Germany to debtor nations.

Third—An American member of the general board of control would probably fill the important post of "commissioner" charged with deciding when Germany's capacity to pay had been reached.

American financiers would be requested to undertake the $100,000,000 loan for two reasons, first, because the money would be absolutely secure since the loans are so small that Germany would be certain to meet them, and, secondly, because the purpose of the loans would add to the solidity of the international fabric of finance.

The installation of a world's exchange dictator is one of the most significant proposals in the experts' report. It is proposed to create a reparations transfer committee consisting of "an agent for reparations payments and five persons skilled in matters relating to foreign reparations payments and finance, representing five of the Allied and associated powers," namely, the United States, France, Italy, England and Belgium.

Each member would be appointed by the Reparations Commission after consultation with the members of the general board of the bank of issue of the same nationality. The president of the committee (the agent for reparations payment) would also be appointed by the Reparations Commission, and it is considered that if he should be a strong man he would direct the committee's work and be in himself the controller of the transfers from the new bank of issue to the debtor nations, choosing the time and means, but calling together the members of the committee from time to time for their approval.

Neutral Official Favored
It would be in part the business of the committee to go into the world exchange market and buy foreign trade balances to be used in the transfers for reparations payments. The committee's representatives would most likely be stationed permanently in New York, London and Amsterdam so that the head of the committee, whose office would be in Berlin, would direct the contact with the great exchange markets.

This official would most likely be a neutral, probably an American, because it was declared in the experts' discussions that only a neutral financier would have sufficient detachment from Germany's creditors to be able to exercise properly the immense powers bestowed upon him.

TEAM'S LATE RALLY BEATS GETTYSBURG

Muhlenberg Comes to Bat in Ninth and Wins, 3 to 2, at Allentown.

Muhlenberg won in spectacular fashion from Gettysburg at Allentown Thursday afternoon, score 3 to 2. With the score 2 to 1 against it, Muhlenberg came to bat in the ninth inning and three successive hits won the game before a man was retired. Conway, the first man up, singled; Moll then tripled, scoring Conway. Slemmer then singled, scoring Moll with the winning tally.

Plowman, on the mound for Gettysburg, was touched for eight hits, while the Orange and Blue stickmen knocked but six hits off Muhlenberg's two twirlers.

"Snaps" Emanuel played second base and was credited with four outs, 2 assists and one error, the only one of the contest.

With a cry, Jack Warhope caught up the unconscious girl in his arms, to discover that she must have been in the river, for her garments were completely saturated and her hair hung about her shoulders, sodden and dripping.

He was wrapping his hunting blouse about her when, with a startled exclamation, he jerked away his hand and held it up between his face and the sky—it was smudged with blood. He bent over the girl—blood was streaming from her right shoulder and running down her side. That last bullet from the edge of the yard—it had found the core of a tragic target.

Picking her up in his arms, he ran around to the kitchen, dashed the door open and laid her on the sofa in the sitting room.

He had wrapped her in blankets snatched from the parlor bedroom, tore up a sheet for bandages and was doing his best to stop the blood, when there came the sound of a man running across the yard, and the next moment Uncle Nick, doubtless alarmed by that last shot—coming as it did upon the heels of the housekeeper's story—was calling and pounding at the sitting room door. Jack threw it open.

"Textie's hurt!" he cried. "Quick—Doctor Arnold and Aunt Liza and Mrs. Curry."

Without a question the old man hurried away.

The woodsman had brought the candle out of the room where the dead robber lay, closed the door and was doing his best to stop the blood and restore the girl to consciousness, when the doctor ran in.

A hurried word or two and he was at the hurt shoulder. The bullet—it was his first care. With quick skill he hunted it; fortunately located it almost immediately. It had just missed the lung, ranged upward and lodged barely beneath the skin at the top of the shoulder. He made a small incision and probed it out.

He had washed the wound and had it nearly dressed when Aunt Eliza came running in, followed an instant later by Mrs. Curry, flurried and panting. Changing Textie's sodden garments for dry ones, while the woodsman built a fire in the kitchen stove, they laid her between warm blankets in the parlor bedroom.

Picking up the candle, the woodsman crossed the floor, threw open the door of the room where the dead robber lay and motioned for the two men.

Even the doctor started, aghast at the gruesome, huddled form sprawled there among the littered, blood-spattered money. Uncle Nick's muttered cry brought the two women running from the sick room, to gaze with the others—awed to silence by the tragedy that had again visited the quiet cottage.

The woodsman well knew that questions would be flashing through each mind—had been since the discovery of Textie's hurt—knew that each looked to him for the answer. A low moan came from the parlor bedroom. That last treacherous shot—he knew that the man with the red lock could never come back. It had been a mistake to shield him; a blunder to trust him—a blunder that was being paid for at a fearful cost.

The doctor was the first to break the silence.

"What does this mean?"—the question was half a demand.

"It means—Caleb Hopkins," was the hard, incisive answer.

The doctor started; the two women caught their breath; Uncle Nick swore, felt ashamed of it, looked foolish.

"This dead man"—the woodsman dropped a hand toward the huddled form—"is Black Bogus." The two women looked at each other; shrank back. The doctor's eyes lifted; he drew a step nearer and gazed hard at the body. "Him and Hopkins and—Loge Belden, the man was about to say, but thought of the mountain girl, and he didn't; besides, Belden had not shown himself at the robbery—they're both outlaws and counterfeiters. Hopkins would take good money out of the safe and put counterfeit bills in place of it.

"BOOTLEG KING" QUILTS FOR GIRL

Daughter's Unhappiness in Italy Causes Mike To "Go Home."

New York, April 11—Mike Cusamano doesn't mind being called "king of the bootleggers" in New York or even in America, nor does it disturb him that half a dozen of his bartenders are behind jail bars.

But, he explained to David Siegel, assistant United States district attorney, to be known by such a name in the old country and to have the opprobrium bring scorn and unhappiness to a 11-year-old daughter over there—that's different.

"They pass her by on the street, her playmates," Mike said. "They make faces at her in school and say, 'Daughter of the king of bootleggers in America!' She writes me that she is unhappy and begs me to come home."

So Mike has turned his wealth into cash, nearly $1,000,000, some say, and is sailing Monday for his native town of Cinegati, Italy, "to be the richest man in town and make my daughter happy."

He hath a good harvest may be content with some thistles.

Haste trips up its own heels, fetters and stops itself.

"It Means Caleb Hopkins," Was the Hard, Incisive Answer.

Nothing is so hard but search will find it out.

MEETING YOUR OBLIGATIONS PROMPTLY

The activity of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce in placing the credit system on a sound basis recalls that it has not been so very long ago when it was a common practice with certain classes of people to let bills drag for months and months.

Families would go to the mountains or seashore resorts for a season and leave a trail of unpaid bills behind them.

Nothing was thought of it. If the subject was ever mentioned it merely evoked mild pleasantries and the attitude of the guilty one was boastful rather than apologetic.

Today the situation is reversed. Worth-while people are paying their bills promptly. Putting their accounts off for months and months is no longer customary. Merchants do not permit or sanction it as they once did.

And the few individuals who still adhere to the old practice are becoming enlightened—gently in some cases, forcibly in others, courteously in all—as to the wrong and injustice they are doing.

No man today will boast of the account he pays "whenever he feels like it." No group of men will smile with the one who speaks proudly of the money he owes, and which is overdue.

This healthier public sentiment over the nation is being brought home to the people of Gettysburg through the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, every resident being rated as good, poor or undesirable by the houses with which he does business. United and intelligent action of the members in dealing with the credit situation here is beginning to have its results. It is a fair and just movement which the people as a whole are quick to see, and generous cooperation is bound to result.

At this time, when credit ratings of every individual are being fixed on the Chamber of Commerce books, it behooves every man to ask himself the question whether his name will stand high or whether he will trail along with the comparatively few undesirable credit risks or "neverpays."

Dedication Postponed

FREDERICK—The dedication of the newly organized and beautified Lutheran church at Walkersville, Rev. Charles A. Shilke, pastor, will not be held on Palm Sunday but will have to be postponed owing to unavoidable delay in receiving materials and because of weather conditions, it was announced. They have definitely fixed the date of reopening and dedication for Sunday, May 11, at a morning and evening service. A fine program is being arranged preliminary to the dedication including the dedication itself. It will include some of the outstanding leaders, preachers and educators in the Lutheran church. The old original church has undergone a complete renovation. To the east side of the church there has been added a Sunday School room, 19x63 feet, a new vestry room, a deeper chancel, new organ room. An entirely new front has been added, including a 50 foot tower.

Taxpayers Delinquent

FREDERICK—Delinquent taxpayers have until next Monday to settle their tax accounts. Beginning on Monday, April 14, at 10 o'clock, the tax sales will commence, the properties being sold at the court house door. Until Wednesday morning, there were 19 delinquent tax accounts. The amount of money outstanding approximates taxes totaling $294.12 for real estate, and $665 additional costs, totaling $959.12, due the county and which will be obtained through the tax sales. It is not the desire of the county officials to secure the taxes through this medium. All persons who still owe taxes are requested to settle their accounts this week, thereby eliminating the necessity of holding sales. Last year, there was only one tax sale held, and that was allowed to be sold, not for lack of money, but for the purpose of obtaining a clear title, it was said.

WHEN MOTHER GETS A LETTER

When Mother's had a letter, then her eyes begin to twinkle
And the joy of hearing from him seems to banish every wrinkle.
I think if he could see her as she hurries for her glasses,
There would never be a morning when the gray-clad postman passes;
And I'm sure if he could hear her as she hums some cheerful ditty,
She would never be forgotten by the boy that's in the city.

It's no use to sit and tell her not to worry or be fearful.
When a mother's heart is lonely, then a mother's eyes are tearful
And a mother's mind is troubled, and she's constantly referring
To the dangers of the city and the accidents occurring;
But the nights I find her smiling and she says she's feeling better,
And she laughs across the tea cups, then I know she's had a letter.

tory will be located here. A committee of those interested in the forming of the new company, with an engineer of the Maryland and Pennsylvania railroad, after looking over several sites offered, finally settled on the one offered by the Red Lion Water company farm, situated near the first trestle along the railroad. It was found that to run a siding from the main track to this site would be a simple matter, and that along with other advantages was what caused the new association to purchase the land. It was offered 50 per cent cheaper than other sites offered. It is a plot 200 by 700 feet, and is close to a six-inch water main. The capital stock of the company will be $200,000, with a paid-up stock of $150,000. The minimum about that any of the furniture factories is asked to take in stock is $7,500, based upon the capital stock of the several furniture factories to pay their allotted portion.

2 Steers Outpull 3 Horses

TURNPIKE.—Two steers, owned by Edgar Keeney, tenant on the farm of his father, Samuel Keeney, near here, recently demonstrated that they could outpull a pair of mules and a horse. Mr. Keeney had the two steers tied to the back of a wagon, drawn by the mules and the horse, intending to take them to Shrewsbury, to deliver them to H. S. Godfrey, a butcher and meat dealer. Everything went well until the State road was en-

From the pocket of her apron she pulls out his written pages
And exultantly she tells me that he's had a raise in wages.
Then she chuckles at his humor and the story of his labors,
And I know beyond a question that she's read it to the neighbors;
And we sit and talk it over, proud as lovers newly smitten,
Finding joy and satisfaction in each line our boy has written.

When Mother's had a letter, then the fears and doubts that grieve her,
And the thousand things she's dreading through the silence, seem to leave her.
Then I wish unto her chuckles some glad morning he could listen,
Or could see her smile returning and her eyes begin to glisten;
Could he know the joy it gives her, then he never would forget her
And she'd never have to wonder why she doesn't get a letter.

countered and the steers started to hold back. With some difficulty this place was reached and the real trouble started here in getting the animals to go over the Stewartstown railroad tracks. The steers, the combined weight of which was 1923 pounds, almost a ton, held back to such an extent that it was found necessary to untie them from the wagon and drive them to Shrewsbury, after one of them temporarily escaped.

CAPPER WAR BILL ASSURES PEACE

Army Officers Believe Other Nations Would Hesitate to Attack U. S.

Washington, April 11.—Enactment of the Capper mobilization bill would be more effective toward maintaining peace than any program of disarmament yet devised, officers of the army general staff declared Thursday before the senate military committee. The measure would give the president authority to conscript the national manpower and material resources. "It would be a notice to the world," Lieutenant Colonel Raymond Bridges, chief of the general staff mobilization section, said, "that every resource of this nation is immediately available for national defense. There is not a nation in the world but would hesitate to arouse that aggregate power."

Army experts suggested several minor changes in the bill, among them being the extension of authority for conscription to include "all the public armed forces," instead of for "the military establishment." The provision for exemptions should be eliminated, they said, and only "deferments from service" granted.

made by prominent citizens and a group of philanthropic foundations. This sum is to meet the budget of the current year.

Cutting down the number of misfits in business and industry is the particular plan of Dr. Mary Holmes Stevens Hayes, director of the group, according to details made public by the organization secretary, Miss Virginia McK. Claiborne. Branch offices of the service are maintained at 206 West Thirteenth street, 157 East Sixty-seventh street and 66 Chrystie street.

With the cooperation of school officials the service is maintaining counselors in twelve high grade elementary schools and junior high schools. These counselors study a child's interests and capabilities and point out the possible opportunities in any given field, together with the requirements involved. The program includes grants of scholarship to enable certain children to remain in school when they could not otherwise afford to do so.

TELL US, SENATOR LONG, WHY YOU OPPOSED THESE ROADS?

Senator Long says, in that famous platform for campaign purposes only, that he would reduce township road taxes "by putting additional township roads on the state highway system." Intelligent observers in Adams county have been wondering why the legislative session of 1923 made no additions to the state road system in Adams county. Every other Legislature since the passage of the Sprout law in 1911, made substantial additions. Senator Long knows why, and at the risk of his further displeasure we will pass the story along: When the Omnibus road bill was being shaped toward the end of the session of 1923, Representative Myers, of Adams county, succeeded in having the House conferees place in the bill two Adams county roads. The one, the township road running from York Springs to Gardeners Station, the other the township road running from Fairfield via Orrtanna to Cashtown. Senator Clark, head of the Senate conferees, agreed, provided these additions had the approval of Senator Long, who represented Adams county. Mr. Myers and others interested interviewed Senator Long and obtained from him a flat refusal. The only reason he would assign for his refusal to allow these two roads to become part of the state system was, that he was under promise not to permit it. Why would he make such promise, and to whom was it made?

TELL US, SENATOR OF PROMISES, IF THIS STORY IS TRUE OR NOT.

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S.S.S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S.S.S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. $200 to $400 Saved

On This Light-Six Touring Car

By our matchless facilities—our enormous production

HERE is a car priced at $1,045. Built by ordinary methods it would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

It is in scores of ways the leader of its class. No rival car compares in the value that it offers.

Let us tell you how we give that value, then urge you to see this car.

A sensation

Studebaker is today the world's largest builder of quality cars. Studebaker success is the sensation of Motordom.

Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year, 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

There are tremendous reasons for this rush to Studebaker cars. And every man who buys a car should know them.

72-year traditions

The Studebaker name has for 72 years stood for quality and class. To build an ordinary car under that name is unthinkable.

Our assets are $90,000,000—all at stake on serving you better than all others.

We have $50,000,000 in model plants, equipped with 12,500 up-to-date machines. We have 23,000 workers, under profit-sharing plans which lead them to stay and develop.

We spend on engineering $500,000 yearly. We employ 1,200 men to give 32,000 inspections to each Studebaker car in the making.

We are lavish

We are lavish in things that count.

We pay 15% bonus on some steels to get them exactly right. We use genuine leather in our cushions. We use curled hair.

We use more Timken bearings in this Light-Six than any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Our bodies are beautiful creations. The finish and coach work show the final touch. But we build them in $10,000,000 body plants of our own, and pay for these extras in savings.

Where we save

We save by enormous production—150,000 cars per year. Our major costs are all divided by that enormous output. It is utterly impossible for smaller makers to compete.

We save by modern plants, mostly built in the past five years. We save by up-to-date machines. By building our own parts and bodies.

See what this car offers

Come see what this Light-Six offers. How it excels in scores of ways any rival car.

Built with the same steels, the same care and skill, as the costliest of our cars. We have only one grade of chassis.

See its beauty, its comfort, its luxury. See how we have studied your every desire.

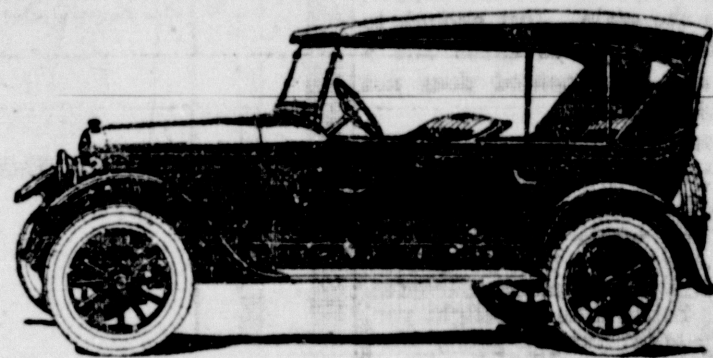

Do that and you will choose this car, if you have in mind a price anywhere near this.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance—

It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free. Clip the coupon below,

Studebaker Light-Six
Touring Car—$1,045

Same steels as we use in the costliest cars we build. More Timken bearings than in any competitive car within $1,500 of this price.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Curled hair filling. All-steel body.

One-piece, rain-proof windshield. Attractive cowl lights. Standard non-skid cord tires.

Transmission and ignition locks. Perfect motor balance. Curtains that open with the doors.

By far the greatest value in this class.

Mail coupon for book about it

We machine all surfaces of our crankshafts and connecting rods, as was done in the Liberty Airplane motors. No other maker of cars at our prices does this. The result is that perfect motor balance, lack of vibration and long life.

Hair Glory

One minute a day gave it to me
By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is my greatest glory. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Mine is a grandmother's age, yet countless girls who see me on the stage and elsewhere, envy my luxuriant hair.

So with mother. She died at the age of 57 with hair like mine today. So with many friends who use my method. They have beautiful hair, and it does not lose its color.

I am convinced that millions, in my way, can multiply the beauty of their hair. And I have arranged to bring that method to them.

A French formula
My mother and I, many years ago, found this formula in France. It had been developed by experts whose whole lives had been devoted to hair study.

One factor in it combats hardened oil and dandruff, the great enemies of hair. They stifle the hair roots, check hair growth, choke the supply of pigment which gives hair its color.

Other factors stimulate and fertilize the scalp. Hair thrives on such a scalp, as flowers will thrive in a clean and well-kept garden.

One minute a day
I call this formula my Hair Youth.

I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but a moment, and this method does not muss the hair.

You have never known anything so effective, yet it is harmless. It does not affect the hair's color, natural or artificial. Its whole effect is on the scalp and the roots which lie therein.

Hair Youth is sold under guarantee. If the first bottle fails to delight you, your dealer will return its price. So I ask you to try it at my risk. Learn what it does for your hair. Let it do what it did for me and mine, and you will reap rich rewards.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price, 50c and $1 with eye dropper. Also my Youth Cream, with two fruits in it. My Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. And my White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

My Hair Youth will lead you to want my other helps, I think. And they are all now at your call. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago—adv.

Old Man Escapes Drowning

FREDERICK—With his clothing dripping wet and trembling in every limb, Frank S. Sheridan, about 80 years of age, of Washington, was found staggering about on the bank of the Potomac river above Knoxville Wednesday morning. It was subsequently revealed that the aged man had either fallen in the river or else attempted to take his life by drowning himself. J. L. Myers in the vicinity of Knoxville noticed an aged man staggering and falling about on the bank of the river as if very weak. He went to the assistance of the man and discovered that he had been in the water and had just crawled to the bank. When questioned, the man said his name was Frank S. Sheridan, and that he lived in the U. S. Soldiers' Home in Washington.

He laughed at Kellogg's Bran!

Now read this letter of thanks from Mr. Kane. It speaks for itself. Remember, it is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran that it was so effective in his case—just as it has been in thousands of others. Only ALL bran can produce 100 per cent results.

My dear friend:

Imagine a young man weighing 165 pounds in the course of a few months parked in bed, a weakling weighing 94 pounds. An elderly lady whom I knew since I was a kid paid me what she thought was a last visit. Upon being told of my plight she immediately mentioned your product for such an ailment. Maybe some of us didn't look upon her views very lightly.

My dear friend, I am still laughing . . . not at your product, but because I am able to. I am telling you and the world at large, "Eat Kellogg's Krumbled Bran!" It should be called "Constipation's worst enemy." I owe you my heartfelt gratitude. I can talk, and whenever the opportunity presents itself, my mouth is always full of bran—Kellogg's Krumbled. Wishing you countless days of progress, I am

Yours for success,

John M. Kane,

228 Salem St., Woburn, Mass.
Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, regularly to relieve constipation permanently. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor. Sold by all grocers.

You ought to at least see this stock before you take stock in any other!

We're broadminded—we don't think that you should buy a Lestz suit before you look around—but we do think you should see what this store has to offer before you accept anyone else's.

From your standpoint; if we can show you just a little better pattern—a little nicer fit—and just a little larger value—here is the place for your spending a few minutes before you spend anything else.

In our buying—they have to show us.

In our selling—we expect to have to show you—and that's why we want you to appraise this stock with your own eyes.

If you wish to make a selection—fine.

If you feel like making an excuse—there's no harm done.
